

Your Objective and Key Result areas (OKRs) Worksheet

Ask yourself the following questions to get a better insight in what to prioritize, focus on and delegate

Objective(s)

My (company/department/ team) objectives: (aspirational and qualitative)

My role: Head of Sales IT Company

Achieve record revenues while increasing profitability!

Key Results:

What measurable targets tell you if you have achieved your objective:

- Start sales in 2 new countries.
- Increase gross profit margin from 23% to 54%
- Hit quarterly revenue of $1 00,000.

What are the top priorities?

1. Hit quarterly revenue of $1 00,000,

My personal Key Qualities that will help me to achieve those Objectives and Key results are:

- My personal extensive sales experience
- My analytical understanding of the market
- My understanding of the sales process
- My ability to coach and train people.

What tasks am I (our department) doing that do not significantly contribute to reaching our Objective(s) and Key Results?

- Spend too much time with IT vendors meet them less regularly let PM'er take more responsibility
- Involvement in Operational Warehouse and Logistical issues. Let purchaser take more control.
- Financial reporting. Let team member make a standardized reporting tool.
- Spend too much time in meetings that are not relevant but invited by my boss. Talk with boss tell / ask him to not invite me for all meetings, or delegate some of the meeting attendance to my teamleader